Ward profile introduction

About Lewisham's Ward profiles

The ward profiles bring together some of the key data sources to provide the demographic, social and economic characteristics of an area. In May 2022, the number of wards increased from 18 to 19.

- The boundaries of two wards have stayed the same, Telegraph Hill and Forest Hill, all the others changed.
- Two wards no longer exist: New Cross and Whitefoot.
- We now have three brand new wards: Deptford, Hither Green and New Cross Gate.
- 16 wards have three Councillors.
- Three wards have only two Councillors: Bellingham, Lewisham Central and New Cross Gate.
- The total number of Councillors remained in 54, the same as the previous period.

At the time of publication, the results of the 2021 Census have not yet been published, which means many indicator variables in this report rely on potentially outdated data from the 2011 Census. Data sources of all charts and statistics are clearly stated throughout this document. Revised data will be made available in the next revision of this document.

Wards 2022

Brockley

Brockley ward has expanded to include some of the old Ladywell ward. It is known for its tree-lined roads with grand period housing, good schools and a thriving community of independent shops and restaurants. This attracts young families and young professionals. Brockley is one of the least deprived wards in the borough.

The ward has some social housing, with the largest being Wickham Road/Gardens estate. The main providers being Lewisham Homes and Pinnacle Housing –created out of stock transfer from Lewisham Homes. Other social housing landlords in the ward include Hexagon, Peabody, L&Q and Hyde Housing. The conservation area is mainly in the north of the ward.

In terms of active organisations and facilities in the ward, Lewisham Art House supports artists and art based learning through creative workspace and specialist facilities; Breakspears Mews Community Gardens is shared space that has been planned, designed and maintained by a core group of volunteers; Street Trees for Living is based in the ward, but plants trees across the borough; Luxmore Community Gardens are a community group that aims to bring improvements to the pocket park, delivering park based activities for all. Brockley Max is a well-established nine day community arts festival in the first week in June and the Brockley Society a community association significantly supporting the local area.

The well respected Goldsmiths College is based within the ward.

Arts projects are highly regarded, funded and valued in the ward, however there is space to further develop provisions for young people.

Brockley has allocated £94,864 of NCIL funding to nine projects (within the old ward boundaries). The programme includes support for a social supermarket, a programme supporting health and wellbeing, and a number of arts projects, including Brockley Max.

Diversity: Languages

82.9% of Brockley residents speak English as their primary language, compared to 83.5% in Lewisham as a whole, 77.9% in London, and 92.0% in England.

Of the remaining residents, 15.0% can speak English well or very well.

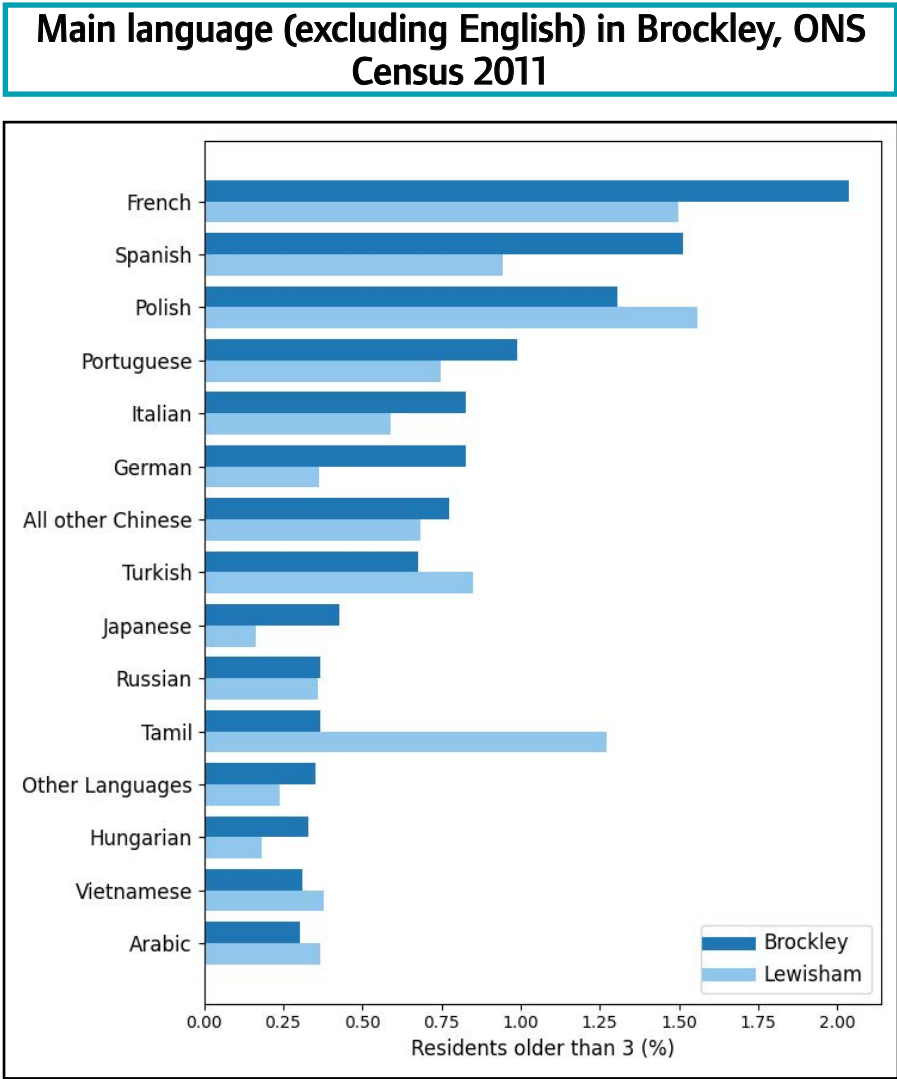

Population speaking little or no English in Brockley, ONS Census 2011

On the other hand, 2.1% of residents cannot speak English well or at all, compared to a Lewisham average of 3.1%. This means an estimated 385 people in Brockley may require everyday language support.

Among those not speaking English as their main language, the three most widely spoken languages are French (2.0%), Spanish (1.5%), and Polish (1.3%).

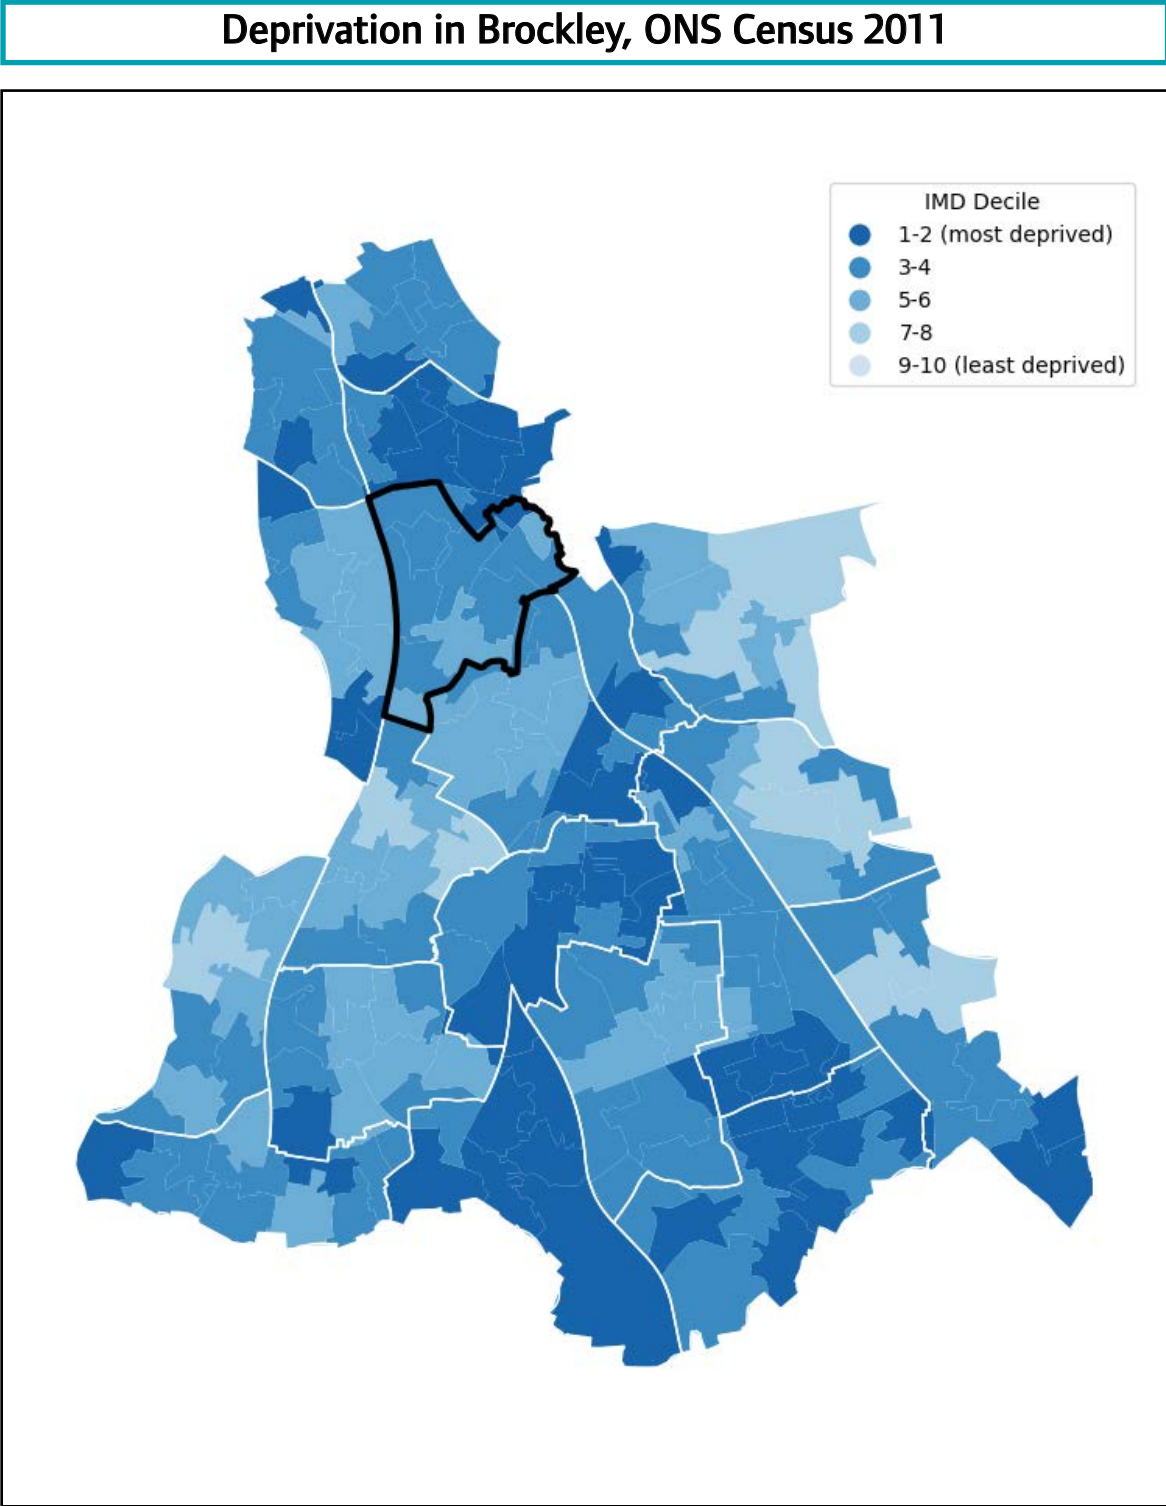

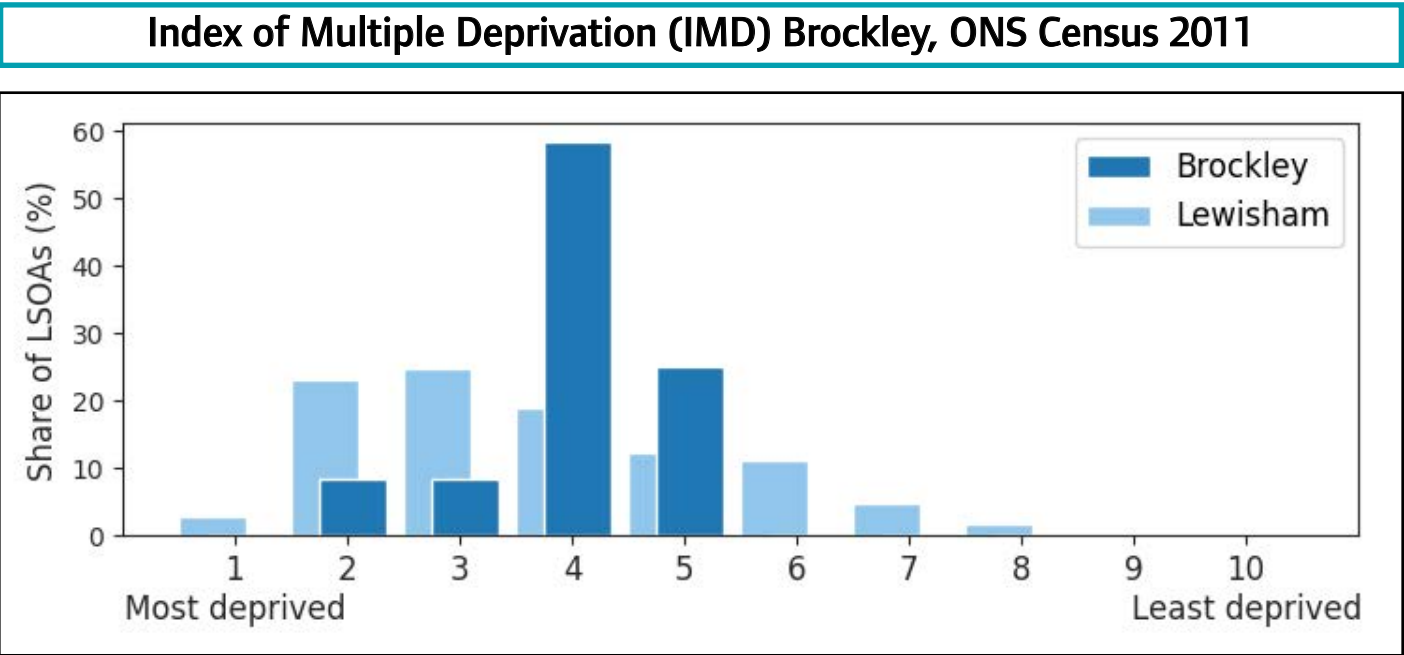

Deprivation

The Index of Multiple Deprivation (IMD) is the official measure of relative deprivation in England. It is based on multiple factors: population income, employment, education skills and training, health and disability, crime, barriers to housing and services, and general living environment.

The IMD is determined for small areas, using a statistical geography called Lower-layer Super Output Areas (LSOA), with each LSOA typically representing between 1,000 and 3,000 people. Each LSOA in England is ranked from most deprived to least deprived, and then segmented into ten groups (or deciles), with the bottom decile (or decile 1) representing the most deprived 10% LSOAs in England.

Of the 12 LSOAs in Brockley, one ranks in the bottom 20% of the country (decile 1 or 2.)

Fuel poverty and EPC

Fuel poverty in England is measured statistically using the Low Income High Costs definition, under which a household is considered to be in fuel poverty if:

- They have required fuel costs that above average (the national median spend on fuel).
- Were they to spend that amount they would be left with a residual income below the official poverty line.

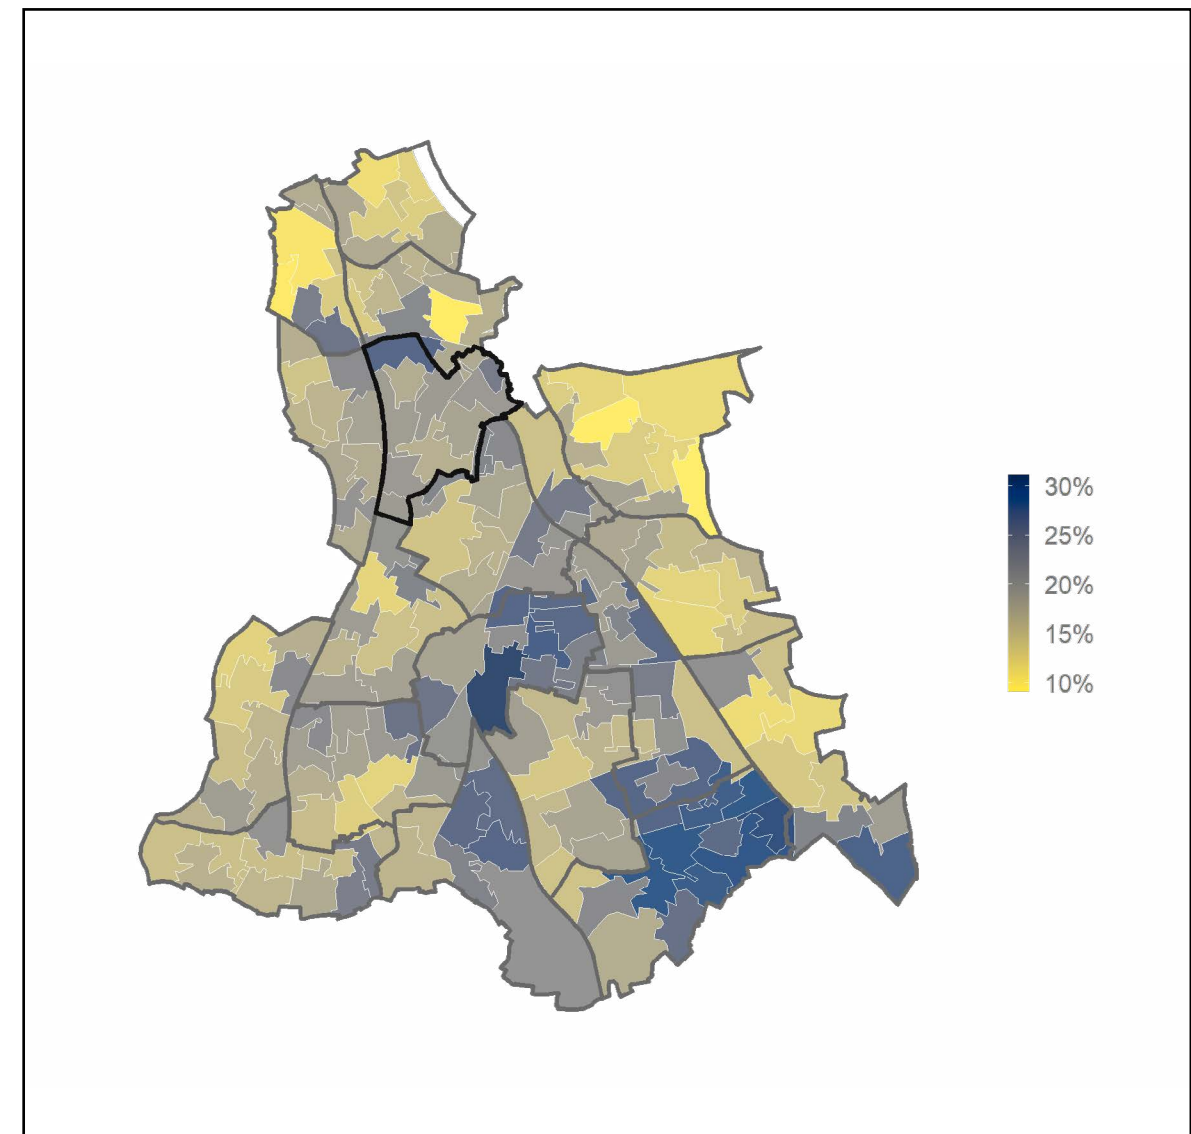

In the 12 LSOAs in Brockley, proportion of households fuel poor ranges from 16.5% to 26.8%.

Energy Performance Certificates (EPCs) were first introduced in England and Wales in 2007, and are valid for 10 years. They contain information about a property's energy use and typical energy costs, and recommendations about how to reduce energy use and save money. Dwellings are rated between A (highly energy efficient) and G (highly inefficient.) The average EPC rating for dwellings in England is D.

In Brockley, 46% of assessed households have received an EPC rating of A, B, or C, which means they are highly energy-efficient.

It is estimated that the share of highly energy-efficient dwellings in Brockley could be as high as 83% if home owners were to carry out the improvements recommended during their assessment.

Housing and affordability

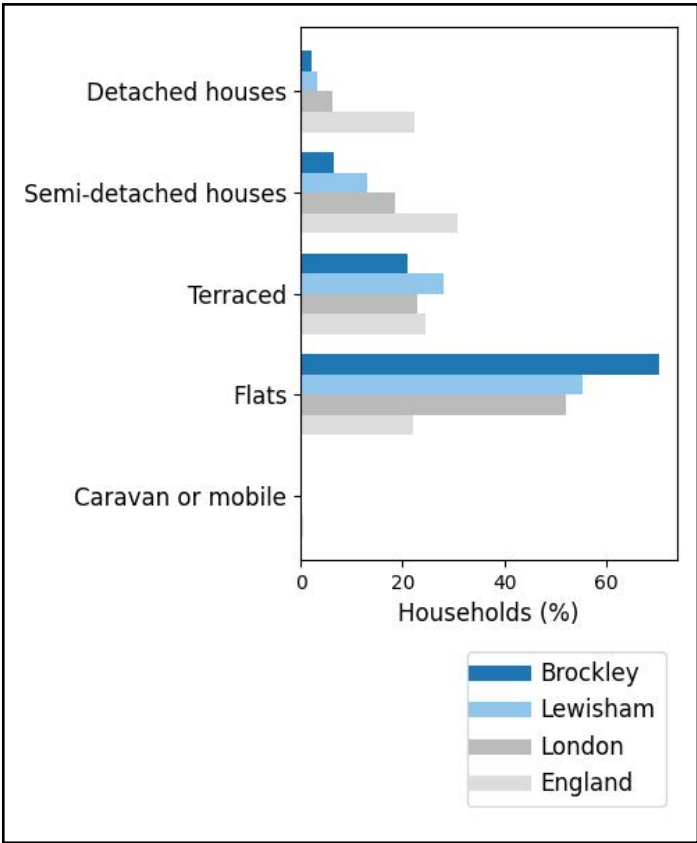

70.4% of Brockley residents live in flats, compared to 55.4% in Lewisham as a whole, 52.2% in London, and 22.1% in England. Among Brockley residents, the three most common accommodation types are Flats (70.4%), Terraced (21.0%), and Semi-detached houses (6.5%).

28.1% of Brockley residents live in social rented accommodation, compared to 31.1% in Lewisham as a whole, 24.1% in London, and 17.7% in England. Among Brockley residents, the three most common types of tenure are Private rented (35.7%), Owned (33.6%), and Social rented (28.1%).

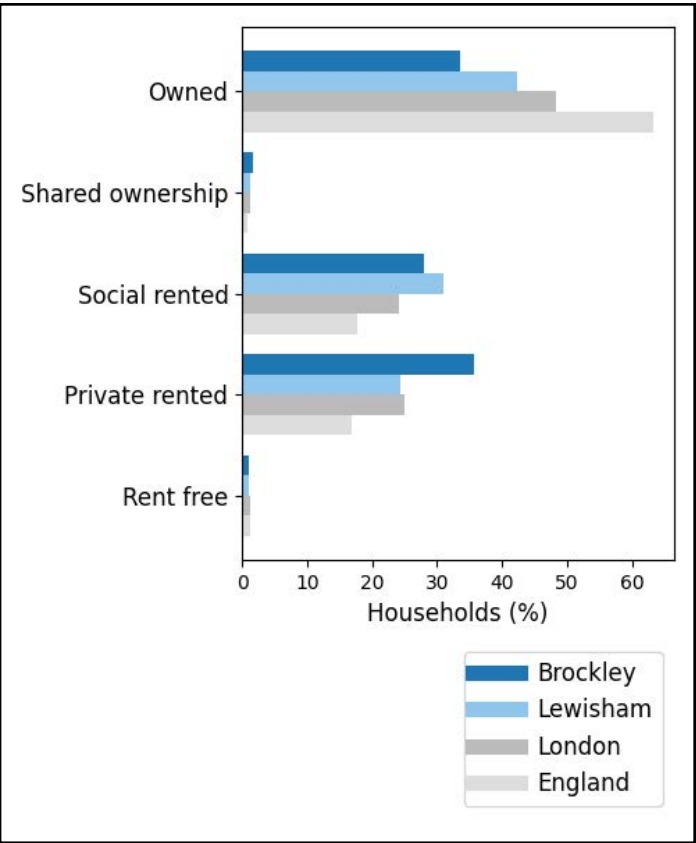

House prices in Lewisham remain lower than those for London as a whole. In 2020, the median house price in the borough was £430,000 compared with £483,000 for Greater London and £249,000 for England.

In terms of relative affordability based on median prices, Lewisham had a median work-place based income to house price ratio in 2020 of 12.3x. Based on median ratios, Lewisham was relatively more affordable than Lambeth, Greenwich and Bromley; and less affordable than Southwark, Croydon, Tower Hamlets and London overall, the South East region and England.

Benefit claimants

Universal Credit is the primary social security payment for working-age people with a low household income. It was introduced in 2013 and has gradually replaced six prior benefits: income-based Employment and Support Allowance, income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance, and Income Support; Child Tax Credit and Working Tax Credit; and Housing Benefit. All Universal Credit recipients receive a standard payment that varies by age and whether they live with a partner. Additional payments are offered to help with housing, children and childcare, sickness and disability, and for carers. A further weekly £20 uplift was offered during the COVID-19 pandemic until September 2021.

In Brockley, 2,108 people received Universal Credit in February 2022. By comparison, in February 2020, 953 people received Universal Credit.

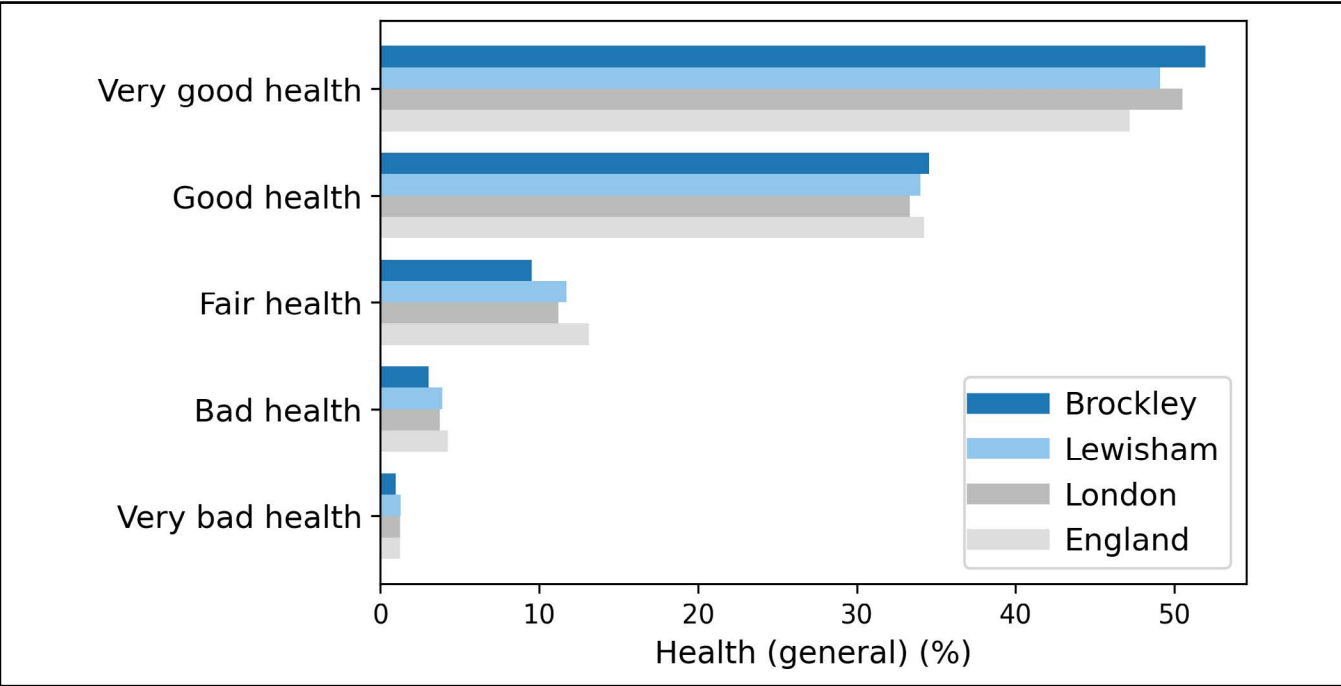

Health and wellbeing
